We created this privacy statement to show that we care about the privacy of our users and in order to inform them about the manners of collection and processing of personal data on this website. Please read this Statement carefully in order to learn how your personal data is collected, processed, protected or used in any other way.

Data collection

Personal data means any information related to an identified or identifiable person. An identifiable person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that person. You should bear in mind that non-personal information and data can be automatically collected by means of our web servers or by use of cookies. Click here to read our cookie policy. Examples of data on your use of the website include: the most visited and viewed websites and links on our website, time spent viewing the site, the most popular keywords that bring people to our site, your IP address, data collected via cookies, data of your device such as hardware settings, system activity, type of search engines etc.

Data processing

We use the data obtained about you for one or several mentioned purposes:

- In order to personalize your user experience (collected data helps us to respond better to your individual needs);
- In order to improve our website (we are constantly trying to improve the offer of our website based on feedback from our visitors)

To find out how we use cookies, read our cookie policy at www.gdprinformers.com/cookie-policy.

Protection of your data

In order to protect personal data you are sending through this website, we use physical, technical and organizational safety measures. We are continuously upgrading and testing our safety technology.

Personal data breach notice

In case of personal data breach, we will notify you and the competent authority via email within 72 hours on the scale of breach, data involved, possible impact on our services and our planned measures for data protection and restriction of any harmful impacts on individuals.

The breach notice will not be sent in case:

- if technical and organisational protection measures (such as encryption) were applied to the personal data affected by the personal data breach, which render the personal data unintelligible to any person who is not authorized to access it;
- if we have taken subsequent measures to ensure that the high risk to the rights and freedoms of individuals is no longer likely;
- if it would involve disproportionate effort (in such a case we will notify you via public communication or similar equally efficient measure).

Personal data breach means a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or processed related to offering of our services.
